

Don't Bury Your Dreams

By Vilma L. Perez

- Can you relate to Vilma about giving up on your dreams?
- Is there a particular dream you have that seems out of reach?
- What are some of the negative phrases that come into your head when you try to move forward?

Bonus Questions

- Have you had people make fun of your dreams or say you can't accomplish something?
- What is the next step for you? (Sometimes sharing your dream with someone else is a good next step.)
- Vilma makes good points that it is better to try and fail than to do nothing. Do you agree? Why or why not?

Reach UP to God

- What do you think about this parable? Does it surprise you? Do you think it's fair?
- "Trust God" sounds easy, but it may not be so easy for you. What's your experience with trusting God?
- God cares about your dreams and every step you take. Can you say, "I trust you, God" out loud or tell a friend you are trying to trust Him? Ask for prayer and courage to move forward to your dreams.
